

Luke Williams

Director, Business Development

Relevant Experience/Specialization

Luke Williams is a business development consultant in the Tampa Office. He has over 15 years of experience in the employee benefits field including claims administration, account management, sales and consulting. With his broad background, Luke is able to introduce the Willis Towers Watson resources and services that will help clients effectively control soaring health and welfare plan costs, improve health outcomes and promote employee engagement through broad-based, state-of-the-art interventions.

Role at Willis Towers Watson

Luke serves as Director, Health & Benefits mid-market business development for Florida. In this capacity, he is responsible for identifying and developing relationships with prospective clients across the state.

Education and Credentials

Luke received his B.S. in Political Science from Gordon College in Wenham, MA.